

The Canadian Petroleum Discovery Centre

MEDIA RELEASE

For Immediate Release
Dec. 8, 2009

Terry Gomke a Veteran of the Oil and Gas Industry in Alberta to be recognized

A veteran of the oil and gas industry in Alberta will be recognized by his company and the Canadian Petroleum Discovery Centre on January 12th in a very special ceremony.

Terry Gomke, a 25 year employee and immediate past President of Gibson Energy will be on hand at 11:00 a.m. to see dedication of a new multiflex Classroom. He will be joined by many of the senior executives of the firm including current President Stew Hanlon.

To be known as the Gomke Classroom, sponsored by Gibson Energy, thousands who come to the Centre to learn about energy will use the Classroom.

During the 15 year term of Mr. Gomke's presidency, Gibson Energy evolved into Canada's leading midstream company. Gibson's diverse business base includes Marketing, Truck Transportation, Crude Oil Terminals and Pipelines, Moose Jaw Refinery and Canwest Propane.

The Canadian Petroleum Discovery Centre took the step to create four new modular classrooms to meet a growing demand for Learning about the Oil Patch. The classrooms can be used by school aged children and students, post-secondary students, career oilfield workers, Professional organizations, governments, the Publics of Alberta and beyond.

The Centre is about to be certified by a major Alberta University as a Learning Place about the oil and gas industry in all of its parts.

We would like to invite your organization to come to this special occasion on January 12th to see our new Classroom structure, visit with Mr. Gomke and others and to see the Centre close up. Ceremonies will start at 11:00 a.m. with the Classroom dedication, followed by a tour of the Centre and then a luncheon. You are invited to the luncheon.

If your news organization can come, please call either –

Lynne Dunstan at the Centre at 1-866-987-4323 or Norman Haines: Consultant/Advisor at 403-258-3340.